

Oh! Look at the sky!

"HIR OES I FAIR", Old Welsh Melody,
arr. Henry Walford Davies (1869-1941)

Thomas Gwynn Jones (1871-1949)

1. Oh! look at the sky! The East be - comes ligh - ter, Still
2. Be - hold the bright star! Lo! wise men be - fore him, And

1. brigh - ter and brigh - ter, Be - hold to the earth a star draw - eth
2. shep - herds ad - ore him, Rich offer - ings and gifts they bring from a -

1. nigh! The night melts a - way! The moun - tains are beam - ing, Dark
2. far; His pa - lace is bare, He lies in the man - ger, There

1. val - leys are gleam - ing With light from on high! What sing - ing doth 2.. is but the stran - ger To watch him with care; Yet though it is

1. fill The cry - stal - line skies? From hea - ven it flies O'er
 2. bare, The lay and the light Float in through the night, And

1. hol - how and hill, And who are the sing - ers? God's an - gels are
 2. make it so fair; And child - ren come creep - ing, And mo - thers are

CHORUS.

1. bring - ers Of peace and good - will! From hea - ven a - bove Come
2. weep - ing With ten - der de - light.

mer - cy and love To those who re - pine; One gen - tle and low - ly, One help - less and ho - ly, The Child-King di - vine.
