

An Evening Prayer

Illumina tenebras nostras!

Henry Cary Shuttleworth (1850-1900)

"STERNBERG," 11.11.10.10

William Henry Havergal (1793-1870)

1

1. Fa - ther, ere yet an - o - ther day is en - ded, In - to thy
2. When falls on life's gay noon the night of sad - ness, O may we
3. Sun - shine and cloud are thine; yet gloom is drea - ry, Hope yields to
4. Pain wrings the heart, and fierce temp - ta - tions try us; Dim - ly we
5. Fa - ther, when earth - ly life for us is en - ded, In - to thy

6

1. hands be all its hours com - men - ded; An - gels a - bout our way
2. feel thee near. E - ter - nal Glad - ness, Our fee - ble faith up - hold,
3. fear, and we grow weak and wea - ry. Lead us to rest on thy
4. know that el - der Bro - ther by us, Who in the gar - den suf -
5. hands its deeds and years com - men - ded; Now our one Guide, be then

11

1. keep watch and ward, Light - en our dark - ness with thy peace, O Lord.
2. new strength af - ford, Light - en our dark - ness with thy pres - ence, Lord.
3. un - fail - ing word, Light - en our dark - ness with thy love, O Lord.
4. fered, and im - plored, Light - en our dark - ness for his sake, O Lord.
5. our one Re - ward, Light - en our dark - ness in thy heaven, O Lord.